

THIS YEAR'S SPECIAL SPEAKER

Chad Harms is the Associate Pastor of Creekside Bible Church in Tualatin, Oregon. In this role he oversees student ministries, runs the church's homeless ministry, and shares other preaching and day-to-day responsibilities. Chad received his undergraduate degree in Pastoral Studies from Corban University and received his Masters of Divinity from Golden Gate Seminary. He has been married to his wonderfully amazing wife, Brynn, since March of last year. He also is the owner of Roy (Named after Brandon Roy of the Portland Trailblazers), the greatest dog in the world. Chad loves sports and coffee.

The topic of this year's camp will be "Being Complete Wheat." In Matthew 13 Jesus refers to his followers, Christians, as wheat. In this study Chad will take us through biblical passages that describe what it means to be everything that Jesus wants His followers to be. In other words, campers will look at what it means to be complete wheat. These passages will inspire and remind us to love, be spirit led, follow the Word of God, and more.

Camp Calvin Northwest has been a tradition for decades among Northwest Reformed Churches every summer. It's a great chance for kids from all around the region to meet each other and learn about God in a beautiful wilderness setting.

WHEN: July 12-16

WHERE: Lost Creek Village Campground, Washington. The camp is 40 miles Northwest of Yakima, Washington, just off Highway 410 near Clifdell.

HOW MUCH: Camp Fee totals $125 for the entire week, per person plus an optional $20 fee for the Ropes Course. Registrations after May 26th increase to $140.

WHO TO CONTACT: Howard Spaan at 503-645-2415
email: hmspaan@gmail.com

Registration forms will be available in April from your church's Camp Calvin Promoter. All completed forms and camp fees need to be given to your promoter no later than June 23rd.
